Retain Mr. Merriam

Governor Frank F. Merriam will be elected at the primary election on August 28 without doubt. His plurality will be substantial.

His election in November is just as certain. The governor during his brief time as the chief executive of the state has shown his fitness for the office by his ability, honesty and fearlessness and courage in performing his duties.

The vile attack made upon the character of the governor some time ago in Los Angeles by a labor union radical has won Mr. Merriam votes.

Such political methods to defeat a candidate for office must fail. The voters resent this unfair means on the last days of election to besmirch the reputation of an aspirant for public office.

Scoring the scurrilous attack made by J. W. Buzzell, secretary of the Los Angeles Central Labor Council, on Governor Frank F. Merriam in a radio broadcast several nights ago, six real representatives of organized labor in Los Angeles county issued a statement disclaiming Buzzell's right to speak for union labor as individuals or in a political way.

"By what right does Buzzell attack Governor Merriam and his record," asked Roy Hostetter, a prominent union labor man of the south. "He seems to have forgotten the fact that in 1930 he was one of the members of the Los Angeles Labor Council who endorsed Frank Merriam for lieutenant governor. If he endorsed him without a full knowledge of his legislative career he was untrue to the cause of union labor. If he did have full knowledge and knew that Merriam had always supported the cause of real unionism, he puts himself in a peculiar position. In other words, he has reneged on his action and should have the censure of every member of his organization, whether or not they are for Governor Merriam or some one else.

"You will recall that in Buzzell's radio speech every action on the part of Governor Merriam of which he complained, was supposed to have taken place not later than 1929. How then does Buzzell square his action of endorsement in 1930 with his defamatory and uncalled for charges made over the radio?"

Merriam has made a clean campaign, setting forth his policies in a way that has made him many friends. He has not found it necessary to speak ill of his opponents, although one of the latter has gone out of his way to attack the legislative career of the governor.

Retain 'Jim' McGrath

The many friends of Sheriff "Jim" McGrath are confident that he will be elected at the primary on August 28. The popular official is gaining votes every day. Supporters are rallying to him with enthusiasm. In every portion of the county clubs are being organized in his behalf. Several civic organizations have endorsed him among them being the Lafayette Club, Voters League of Daly City, Federated Voters League of California and numerous others.

The taxpayers should appreciate the efforts of Sheriff McGrath in keeping down the costs of operating his office and the jail to a minimum. Never has the institution been conducted in such an economical basis. The sheriff watches every detail of his office, cutting down expenses wherever possible. The voters are aware of this and are going to keep this true, tried and trusted official in office.

"Jim" McGrath is an honest, capable, upright and an experienced officer who does his duty at all times. McGrath has no boss to dictate to him. His conscience is his guide and his only boss. He conducts his office to suit himself, allowing no one to tell him what he must or must not do.

The taxpayers and voters should see to it that Mr. McGrath is returned to office with a substantial plurality on August 28. He is efficient and capable. Why make a change?

Elect "Jim" McGrath at the primary election and thus show your confidence in the man who is doing his full duty to the public. Retain "Jim" McGrath. Make his vote overwhelming.

Keep Flynn on the Job

The record of Flynn will keep him in.

This was the general sentiment prevailing throughout San Mateo county in reference to the re-election of Dan Flynn to the office of county assessor, because of the outstanding record that Flynn has made during the many years he has held this important county office.

Citing the efficient manner in which he has handled this county office, the thousands of supporters of Flynn are planning an intensive wind-up campaign during the next few days.

Because of the policy long established by Assessor Flynn on equality of assessments, the courteous and efficient manner in which he has managed his office without political activity, thousands of property owners and citizens are rallying to his support.

With election only two weeks hence the supporters of Assessor Flynn are urging all voters not to be misled by campaign tactics of the opposition but to study the splendid record that Assessor Flynn has made.

Likewise, the thousands of Flynn supporters point out that the office of assessor requires an official who has been trained in this line of work, one who understands the values of property and knows the functioning of this important department of our county government. They emphasize that by re-electing Assessor Flynn, the long experience he posesses is the assurance to the property owners of the continuation of an equality in assessments.

Vote for Russell

Hartley Russell, candidate for the State Board of Equalization for this district, will carry San Mateo county on August 28 by a large plurality. Mr. Russell comes from an old pioneer family of the peninsula. His boyhood was passed at Menlo Park, where he attended school.

Mr. Russell is an experienced accountant, a tax attorney with a large experience in such matters that come before the state board. He is well fitted for the position to which he aspires and should be chosen. He is the best qualified of all the candidates aspiring for the coveted position. Vote for Russell and thus secure a competent man for the state board.

Fred E. Beer's Campaign Ready For Final Week

Fred E. Beer of San Mateo, candidate for supervisor in the Second (San Mateo, Belmont, San Carlos) District, today was ready to launch a strong windup to his county-wide campaign for the primary election. Beer has visited every section of the county thus far.

Reports reveal that Beer's canidacy is meeting with wide favor, because of his ability shown while he was a public official of San Mateo, and his experience. Beer supporters report the need for able and trustworthy men experienced in public afafirs.

The opinion has been expressed, Beer's friends say, that he stands better than an even chance to win the supervisorial fight August 28. This year every section of the county will vote on the supervisors, and with this in view Beer has visited every part.

Harper Looking To Silent Vote For His Election

"A strong silent vote in San Mateo county will elect Police Chief John J. Harper, Burlingame, sheriff of this county!"

Such was the prediction today of M. G. McClinton, former Burlingame mayor, civic leader and general chairman of the Harper-for-Sheriff Clubs throughout San Mateo county.

"I make that prediction because of a recent survey completed by our workers throughout the county. We find that San Mateo county voters are not being swayed by antiquated political methods which called for the election of a candidate simply because he was popular or because his friends felt that their candidate needed the job.

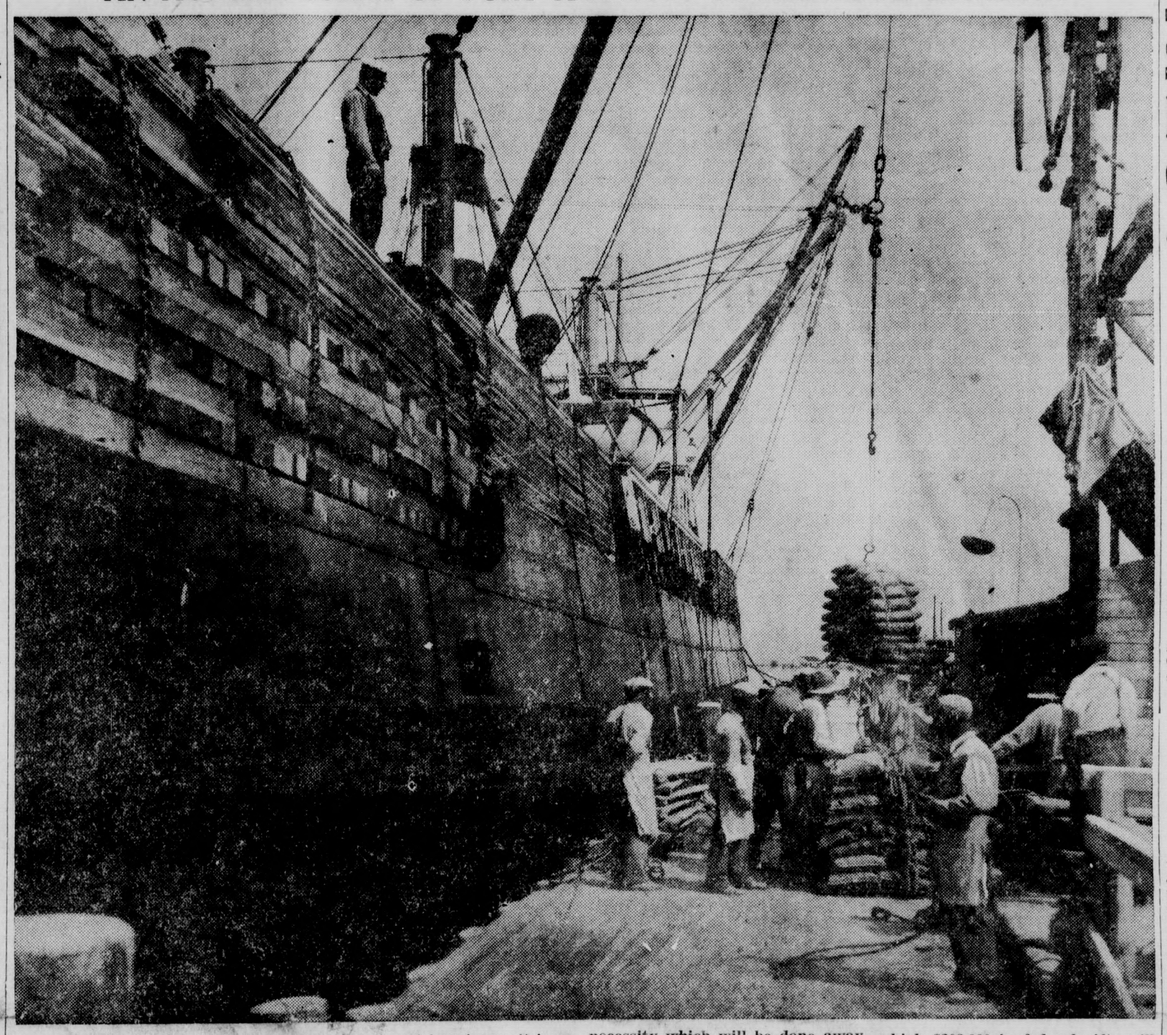
"The issue in this campaign is really based on the ability of the candidate. We have in John J. Harper a man with 25 years experience in police work. He is an attorney and as such knows the law.

"He has shown himself to be capable of heading an important office such as the sheriff's office of San Mateo county."

City Council Voices Anti-'Red' Opinions

BURLINGAME, Aug. 14. — The Burlingame City Council adopted a resolution last night endorsing action of the San Francisco Merchants' Association in asking that President Roosevelt and other government officials "take every precaution to end acts of a seditious nature."

AN ACTUAL SCENE OF PORT ACTIVITY IN REDWOOD HARBOR!



Possibilities in the San Mateo County Port project are forcefully illustrated here by a huge freighter taking on cargo at Redwood Harbor. This is not imaginary; it is an actual scene. Ships like this one are forced to wait on the tides, a necessity which will be done away with by the voting of a $460,000 bond issue August 28. The sum, to which $203,000 in federal gifts will be added, will open the harbor to public use and general commerce.

Fred E. Beer Wins Grocers' Endorsement

The activities of Fred E. Beer and his numerous committees acting in the interest of his candidacy for supervisor, are meeting with marked success.

The San Mateo County Retail Grocers Association, the membership embracing men from every part of the county, has passed an unanimous endorsement and is acting as a special committee of several hundred to publicly announce this recommendation.

Emphasis is being made on the fact that each voter in the county is entitled to vote for his choice of supervisorial candidate regardless of the township in which he lives.

Hillsborough Adopts Budget of $144,000

SAN MATEO, Aug. 15. — The Hillsborough Board of Trustees last night adopted the budget for the coming fiscal year, the total being $144,000, of which $63,000 will go for operating expenses and $81,000 for bond interest and permanent improvements.

ROGERS IN 'HANDY ANDY' ROLE

Will Rogers stars in "Handy Andy," which is coming to the Sequoia Theater on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Walt Disney's newest all-color cartoon, "The Big Bad Wolf," is also to be presented.

CALL-BULLETIN ADDS ITS VOICE TO HARBOR

The San Francisco Call-Bulletin, of which Fremont Older is editor, carried the following in the lead editorial position of today's issue:

A Letter From Redwood City

Read and Endorsed

This newspaper has received the following letter from William Vielhauer, editor of the Redwood City Tribune. It explains itself:

"Voters of San Mateo County on August 28 will pass upon a $460,000 bond issue for harbor development at Redwood City.

"The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has declared itself heartily in favor of the San Mateo County harbor because it means the development of the southern arm of the bay.

"Because the interests of San Mateo County and San Francisco are mutual the assistance of The Call-Bulletin in giving publicity and possible editorial endorsement to the project would be of invaluable assistance at this time."

Editor Vielhauer's letter needs no expansion. It is obvious that the development of the southern part of San Francisco Bay will bring nothing but good to San Francisco and this entire section.

Atherton Taxes To Remain Same

A budget calling for total anticipated revenues of $24,663.50 and total anticipated expendtures of $23,740 for the fiscal year 1934-35 was presented to the Atherton Town Council late yesterday afternoon by Thomas Packham, city clerk, and the ordinance adopting the budget was given its first reading.

Final adoption is scheduled for the next council session, on August 28.

The tax rate of 90 cents for general city government purposes remains the same as the rate of last year. The 8-cent levy for the municipal bond redemption and interest fund is likewise the same figure as the last fiscal year.

S. F. Autoist Hurt At East Palo Alto

Board Resumes Budget Studies

Members of the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors continued going over proposed departmental budgets for the current fiscal year in a lengthy conference this morning with County Executive Walter Kellogg and departmental heads.

Among those called into the conference were Miss Mabel Wilson, assistant superintendent of the Community Hospital; Superintendent of Schools Pansy Jewett Abbott, Probation Officer Francis Robinson and County Fire Warden Bert Werder.

Each budget is being slashed to the bone.

Fire Alarms 'Wired' To Police Station

Redwood City's police station now is connected in with the new fire alarm system installed by the fire department.

A tape telegraph instrument will also tap out a record of the alarm there as well as at the firehouse whenever a fire call is sent in from a box. It is expected to help speed police response to an alarm.

Sera Program Costs Million

Unemployment Forces Relief to Untold Heights

San Mateo county, in co-operation with the State Emergency Relief Administration (SERA), will embark shortly upon an emergency employment program to cost $1,065,960. San Mateo county's share will be 40 per cent.

Besides this figure, San Mateo county itself will require several additional large sums for social service, hospital and other relief agencies.

It is estimated that the unemployment and outright relief program may total close to $1,300,000.

The $1,065,960 Sera-County relief program is made up as follows:

1. Cities, school districts, etc., materials, $101,160.

2. San Mateo county relief work, 40 per cent of $910,800, or $364,320; materials, 70 per cent of $101,160, or $70,812; administration, 40 per cent of $54,000, or $21,600; total San Mateo county share, $456,732.

3. State Emergency Relief Administration relief work, 60 per cent of $910,800, or $546,480; materials (none); administration, 60 per cent of $54,000, or $32,400; state's share, $578,880.

Of San Mateo county's share, there is $120,000 on hand, leaving $336,732 to raise. The county will borrow $116,891 from the state, and will levy direct taxes to meet the balance.

An item of about 50 cents per $100 is expected to be necessary to meet the county's share of the unemployment program.

In addition to this activity, the San Mateo county social service is asking something in the neighborhood of $127,000, $12,000 more than last year, but it is not known if the supervisors will allow this or not.

The social service is asking to increase its outright cash aid from $60,000 to $80,000, or $20,000 additional. It is asking $30,000 for groceries as against $34,000 last year.

The rent, light and heat bill which the county assumes where necessary for indigent persons has been increased by the social service from $30 to $1500. This item has not yet been allowed by the board.

The Community Hospital, maintained by the county, cost $163,140 last year, and will likely take the same amount in 1934-35.

A final relief item is the poor farm, which cost $23,701 last year.

Stockton Visit Shows Wisdom In Developing County Harbor

Civic Group Impressed With Inland Port Operation

Thirty peninsula civic leaders were home from Stockton today definitely impressed with the importance of harbor development after a visit Tuesday to the inland port.

The group, with Port Commissioner S. A. Keyston in charge, was the guest of Col. B. C. Allin, director of the port of Stockton, and City Manager W. B. Hogan of Stockton for the day.

Stockton's port, opened eighteen months ago, was inspected as its physical pattern will be followed in the county harbor development. Reports were given by Allin that 303 vessels had visited the inland harbor during that time.

Particularly impressing to the group was the presence of Santa Clara valley tonnage in the transit sheds.

One shipment of Santa Clara valley canned peaches, for example, had been sent by rail to Stockton, where it awaited the arrival of a freighter which would take it to New York via the Panama canal, after which it will be placed in freight cars again for shipment to Zanesville, Ohio.

Without competing with Stockton, which looks to the San Joaquin valley for its tonnage, civic leaders believe that the Santa Clara valley tonnage will ship through Redwood Harbor, if created, thus avoiding the long haul to the inland port.

Figures were cited at Stockton showing that the inland port had cost $8,000,000, half of it contributed by the federal government. The Redwood Harbor project will total completed only $663,000.

Another comparison showed that Stockton's $8,000,000 project was undertaken in a port district having an assessed value of $330,00,000. The $663,000 Redwood Harbor project would be undertaken by the entire San Mateo county district, which has an assessed value exceeding $50,000,000.

Stockton has $1,900,000 invested in harbor lands, while the Redwood Harbor project calls for only $54,000.

Work is rapidly nearing completion on Stockton's cotton compress, built in the port district at an investment of $230,000, but which will not cost the taxpayers one cent. It was financed by the PWA and notes were signed by the growers themselves. The port will get earnings off the tonnage but will not be put to any expense.

The inland city is constructing three cargo warehouses to augment a like number now jammed to capacity, and new transit sheds and wharves financed at a cost of $900,000 are underway to meet tonnage demands.

The Santa Cruz Cement Company has built a $100,000 plant on the waterfront, while a $250,000 cannery, winery and olive oil factory is to be constructed this year by the Riverbank Canning Company.

Elevator Kills Man Instantly

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—William Gallagher, 45, of San Francisco was killed instantly late yesterday at the W. P. Fuller Co. paint plant in South San Francisco when he was crushed by a rising elevator.

Deputy Coroner Silvio Nieri said that Gallagher started to get off the elevator, a hand-operated affair, at the second floor. The lift started up, carrying Gallagher with it, and crushed him against the top sill of the shaft. Death was caused by skull fracture and internal injuries.

An inquest will be held Tuesday. Gallagher is survived by his wife.

Assessment Slash Requests Presented

Several citizens appeared before the city councilmen sitting as a board of equalization at the fire house this morning to request reductions in assessments on their property. Their petitions were taken under advisement.

The board was to resume meeting later this afternoon after making an inspection of the properties involved.

The relief items are being cited by poor boosters in support of their belief that harbor and industrial development is essential to escape the unemployment load.

He was treated by Dr. H. A. Clattenburg for contusions of his left hip after the accident.

Wilford Stephenson Becker, 818 Thirty-seventh avenue, San Francisco, and an unidentified young woman companion narrowly escaped death or serious injury early Sunday morning when their automobile almost plunged from El Camino Real into the San Francisquito creek bed at the southerly county line.

As it was, they were not scratched, although it took a derrick to remove their car after it had smashed through 50 feet of metal fence, which prevented it from crashing into the creek. Becker's machine was traveling north when the accident occurred.

TRAFFIC NOW IN SIGHT FOR PORT, SAYS EXPERT

Crozier, Consultant in Sunnyvale Dirigible Case, Gives Views

By H. W. CROZIER
[Consulting Engineer]

The west side of San Francisco bay needs a publicly-owned and sponsored port. It has been striving for years to secure the advantages that accessibility to the sea would give it. It would make the potentially industrial region extending both north and south of Redwood creek equal to any in the country and in certain respects superior.

The port project planned is simple, direct and efficient. The initial step will be a channel from the central channel of lower San Francisco bay, extending into Redwood creek, with a turning basin.

The main channel is the backbone of the project and there is ample opportunity for enlargement to any extent in the future.

Alongside this main channel will be built the first wharf and transit shed which is an essential element of the initial step.

Least Expensive Project

There is no question but, with the advantage of the dredging already accomplished in past years and the favorable conditions for economical construction, there is an opportunity to build the least expensive port project on lower San Francisco bay, quality and convenience fully considered.

This is an enormous advantage because it will enable the port commissioners to make very moderate charges for use of the port facilities and thereby assure an adequate volume of traffic.

Since the report of 1931 (which I prepared) was submitted at the hearing before the United States district engineer, Col. H. A. Finch, in Redwood City on September 1, 1931, many important improvements have taken place in San Mateo county, not the least of which is the development of the Bayshore highway to its present state of perfection and with its completion into San Jose assured at any early date.

Intimately Involved

The San Mateo county harbor project is intimately involved in the development of lower San Francisco bay and San Mateo county. The finished Bayshore highway offers an enormous advantage to facilitate rapid and cheap truck transportation direct to the harbor from San Mateo county points and even from points southward from its southern boundary.

The estimates of available traffic made in 1931 are impressive. It must be remembered they were made two years after the depression began in 1929, and when business had reached a low ebb, and represent subnormal conditions.

As conditions improve it will not be long before the volume of business will reach the basis that was used in 1931 traffic estimates, and this will be long before the harbor project could be completed were it authorized this year.

Savings Are Recited

Briefly the traffic estimate indicated there was immediately available for Redwood harbor 250,000 tons of traffic, valued at $7,500.000, annually, upon which a saving of $100,000 annually in transportation charges can be effected.

This traffic is ready to move to the sea at the San Mateo county harbor as soon as a wharf and channel is available.

Consisting in large part of agricultural products like canned goods and dried fruits which will be in large demand because of the unfortunate drought east of the Rocky Mountains, it is likely to move in increasing volume.

The savings possible in handling lumber to San Mateo county consumers of $50,000 a year is of interest to every prospectvie home builder when they presently get ready to develop. Additional traffic to points in Santa Clara county, not included in the interest of being on the safe side when the traffic estimates were made, will be available to the harbor first completed on lower San Francisco bay, as the San Mateo county harbor easily can be.

Opportunity at Hand

San Mateo county has the opportunity to build the first harbor project on lower San Francisco bay, and being the first, can distance later competitors, if any.

The expenditures to be made are moderate for a harbor project and well within the financial capacity of the harbor district. The necessary sums of money can be secured either by sale of bonds to the United States or otherwise, and are very much less than other enterprising communities have had to spend to secure less conveniently located facilities.

The traffic is in sight, moving through the county by rail and motor truck, to pay the necessary annual expenses.

Concluding, San Mateo county has the opportunity now to construct the harbor project upon which its heart has been set for years.

It is founded upon the sound principle, now adopted, that construction of wharves by the harbor district and dredging of channels by the United States shall go on hand and hand, rather than the old way of doing dredging work only and waiting for some private person to build a wharf.

The railroad and highway facilities to serve the harbor are already complete.

The amount of money required is moderate and well within a most conservative estimate of the harbor district's means.

The necessary traffic to insure success is definitely there, now moving to the sea, by longer and more expensive routes.

Barusch Organizes Women Campaigners

Concentrating on women's organizations, a special women's speaking committee is addressing luncheon and afternoon meetings on behalf of Walter Barusch, Democratic candidate for the assembly. Heading the group are Mrs. Harold Eisenberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Jacobi of Atherton; Mrs. Ralpha Wildanger, past secretary of the Redwood City Women's Club of Redwood City, and Mrs. Walter Barusch, president of the Peninsula Hadassah, of Redwood City.

Borden's Tells Where Dollars For Milk Goes

Officials of the Borden Associated Companies in Northern California have selected newspapers exclusively to reveal how Borden's respends in California over 99 cents of each dollar received here.

"When you name us keeper of your family cow," says one Borden official, "you are entitled to know how we spend your money you us to bring her milk to your door."

According to Borden figures nearly 48 cents of each dollar they receive is paid the farmer for his milk and cream. Another item of 28 cents goes to labor for its services. Materials and supplies take 16 cents and taxes and depreciation between 6 and 7 cents. Administration expense is held to the low figure of 78-100 of a cent and profit is lowest of all at 11-100 of a cent out of each dollar received.

Commenting on these figures, Borden officials state that during abnormal 1933, the Borden Associated Companies in northern California had to deliver $9 worth of dairy products to make a penny profit. This figure might have been improved, officialsstate, if unfair advantage had been taken of the farmer or if the quality of the products had been lowered.

On the contrary, according to the figures, the Borden Associated Companies of northern California continued to pay the farmer his agreed price, maintain wage levels, invest heavily in new plants and the latest equipment.

Three Men Debate Breaking Into Home

How would you like to hear three men arguing loudly outside your home at an early hour as to whether they should break in?

That was the experience last night of Miss Laura Smith, daughter of the Rev. Ralph Smith of Menlo Park. She awoke at 1:05 a. m. in their Ravenswood avenue home to hear the three men, "very drunk," talking.

"Let's go in here. It looks nice and quiet and clean," one said.

"Well, how do we get in?" a second asked.

"You don't suppose the lady of the house would let us in. We'll have to break in," the first replied.

At this point, Miss Smith leaped for a telephone to call police, but the would-be intruders dispersed.

CITIZEN ADVISORS URGE POWER PLANT PURCHASE

Reports Show Profits To Other Cities Under Plan

With its searching inquiry into governmental affairs divulging little prospect of big tax savings, the city-wide Citizens' Advisory Board Tuesday night went on record urging the city council to take steps toward the early acquisition by Redwood City of a municipally-owned electric distributing system.

This followed the showing of a sub-committee headed by Phillip Owen that cities were operating tax-free in some states as the result of utilizing electric profits for the benefit of the taxpayers.

Unanimous action of the advisory group followed the showing by Owen's committee that 222 cities were already profiting by this step so the movement was in no sense "pioneering."

The City of Chanute, Kas., was cited as one example by the advisory body. That city is now in its fifth year of tax-free operation. Its cost of government this year is $120,520. In three years its utilities have paid $341,084 into the city treasury.

Another example cited was Ponca, Okla., now tax-free for the fourth year. With a population of 18,000 and a government cost of $334,000 yearly, it pays no taxes.

Owen's committee showed by comparison that the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) was supplying the same amount of power for $23.69 for which a private firm had charged $65.14.

The committee also cited the following net annual profits for five California cities now operating electric plants:

Palo Alto—$79,256.79.
Redding—$44,227.83.
Riverside—$168,486.94.
Burbank—$79,712.67.
Roseville—$33,886.90.

This finding caused the committee to remark.

"The evidence thus presented proves that it is possible to operate a municipal utility successfully and thereby create a surplus which can be applied to the cost of city government as is done in 222 cities."

Chairman Norman W. Pendelton of the committee declared the report sounded "almost like a fairy tale."

He declared that it looked as if Redwood City should "get into line for the protection of its citizens" by extending its utility holdings as soon as possible.

Former Mayor William Dusel, member of Owen's committee, moved that the council be instructed to proceed with early steps along this line. He said that through excess earnings of the utilities the city could provide itself with necessary public buildings, parks and playgrounds and at the same time drastically reduce taxes.

Mrs. Joseph Baughn, another member of the utilities' committee, offered the second, and the motion was unanimously carried.

Carl Beeger was a fourth member of Owen's committee.

At the request of Owen's group, the advisory council appointed Wayne Millington, Redwood City attorney, and City Attorney Albert Mansfield to assist with legal advice.

One of the first steps advised by the citizens' group is the securing of an appraisal by the railroad commission of the electric utility properties here.

New Deal Is Issue In Four Primaries

By UNITED PRESS

Two primary contests of the four being held today put new deal issues up to the voters.

Interest of political students was centered on the farm belt where contests involving tests of strength of new deal supporters were going on in Nebraska and Ohio. Primaries in Idaho and Arkansas largely were local affairs.

The Nebraska contest was regarded as the most spectacular. Representative E. R. Burke of Omaha and Gov. Charles W. Bryan are fighting for the Democratic senatorial endorsement.

FAIR AND CONSCIENTIOUS

The Office Seeks the Man

Three weeks ago our WRITE-IN campaign was started. Three weeks ago POLITICIANS said the people were too indifferent to use their privilege to write in the name of J. Ed. Farrell for SHERIFF.

TODAY THIS IS CHANGED

Political advisors did not take into consideration that the people of San Mateo county are now doing their own thinking; that the voters believe that the writing in of J. Ed. Farrell's name is a privilege which should be exercised.

You make your own and your family's government by the officers you elect.

For Sheriff

CITY OPERATION PLEASES PUBLIC; NONE COMPLAINS

That the citizens of Redwood City are apparently satisfied with governmental operation was indicated last night when not one complaint was laid before the Citizens' Advisory Board, which had invited criticism.

Wayne Millington, chairman of the committee investigating police and fire departments, said also that no complaints had been lodged against those departments.

Chairman Norman Pendleton said that the citizen study had revealed "no shadow of graft in any department," that the city apparently was not "overstaffed," and that the city was "exceedingly fortunate in having the services of City Manager E. A. Rolison."

Menlo Park Seeks To Shift Light Tax

An effort to remove from Menlo Park taxpayers and the city street improvement fund the heavy drain of $1,042 in annual charges for operating 22 street lights was revealed last night at a meeting of the Menlo Park City Council, when City Attorney James O'Keefe Jr. reported that he had conferred with Walter Kellogg, San Mateo county executive.

The Menlo Park city council hopes to transfer the street lighting costs, which are now paid out of the city street improvement fund, to the general lighting district in that part of the county. Action of the supervisors would be necessary.

An ordinance adopting the budget, allowing for revisions to be made at a meeting Monday night, was given first reading.

The budget lists total anticipated revenue for general city government at $11,610.42 and anticipated expenditures of the same amount. This is exclusive of $7,764.73 representing cash on hand from the last fiscal year.

Local Gas Station Robbed; Loot Small

The Standard Oil service station on the Bayshore highway and Main street was broken into by a burglar sometime early this morning, but his loot totaled only one pair of goggles and a fountain pen. There was no cash in the station, which was closed for the night.

Sugar produced in Taiwan, Japan, this year is estimated to weigh over 132,000,000 pounds.

MENLO PARK BACKS BONDS FOR HARBOR

"An opportunity to help ourselves—"

That is the way the proposed San Mateo County Harbor looks to the Menlo Park Recorder, which editorially urges its readers to support the $460,000 bond issue for port development on August 28. Says the Recorder:

"The voters of this city, together with those all over the county, are to be given an opportunity to vote for bonds to raise money with which to provide harbor facilities at Redwood City, or near the southern end of San Mateo county.

"After a careful study of the proposition our readers are advised to vote the bonds for the establishment of this public project. In helping to get the harbor we are putting our city on the map. With shipping facilities at hand there is no reason in the world why Menlo Park should not take on new life. We have plenty of land that can be used as residence property and still have enough left for several sites for manufacturing projects. Think it over, and do your bit by helping to carry the bonds.

"The one thing that Menlo Park has lacked all of these years is a pay-roll to help out the local merchant. As long as our people are compelled to go to San Francisco and other outside places to find employment the city will stand still, or nearly so. We now have an opportunity to do something about it and let's do it. Vote yes on the bonds."

Mrs. Crocker's Will Is Filed

Relatives Are Chief Beneficiaries of Her Estate

Making $244,100 in specific bequests, the will of Mrs. Ethel W. Crocker, wife of William H. Crocker, prominent San Francisco banker, who died at her Hillsborough home on July 21, was filed for probate today in the San Mateo county superior court here. Relatives are the chief beneficiaries.

The estate was valued merely in excess of $10,000. Although Mrs. Crocker during her lifetime was known for her philanthropies, no bequests for charity were made in her will.

Residue of the estate after the specific bequests is left in trust, one-fourth net to go to each of her four children, Countess Ethel de Limur of Paris, and Mrs. Helen Crocker, William W. Crocker and Charles Crocker, all of Burlingame.

Legacies of $50,000 each to her two sons-in-law and two daughters-in-law form the major portion of the specific gifts made by the will. Their beneficiaries are Count Andre de Limur of Paris, Henry Potter Russell, Mrs. Ruth Hobart Crocker and Mrs. Virginia Bennett Crocker.

Other bequests are: $500 a month to a sister, Elizabeth Sperry Poniatowska, of Paris; $1,000 each to her godsons, Paul and Michael Poniatowski, of Paris; $10,000 each to two sisters, Miss Gertrude Sperry of Berkeley and Miss Loraine Sperry of Stockton; and $5,000 to the Rev. Walt H. Cambridge, rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church at San Mateo.

The sum of $16,600 was placed in trust with Mr. Murphy and Mr. Crocker for an unnamed purpose known to them.

Mrs. Crocker's will was drawn on October 4, 1932. Attorneys for the estate are Morrison, Hohfeld, Foerster, Shuman and Clark.

San Mateo Faces 2½-Cent Tax Rise

SAN MATEO, Aug. 14.—San Mateo will face an average tax increase of 2½ cents, it was revealed today by City Manager E. P. Wilsey.

The tentative budget has reduced expenditures to $240,789.30 as compared with $247,193.30 for last year, but the tax increase will be caused by a reduction in the amount of taxable assessed property.

No provision has been made in the budget for paying approximately $50,000 in 1915 street act delinquencies.

The tax rates will be: Old town, $1.35; new town, $1.322; Baywood and Homestead, $1.15; Beresford and Oregon, $1.12.

Woman, Child Hurt In Bayshore Crash

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—A woman and an 8-year-old girl were cut and bruised late Saturday in an automobile collision on the Bayshore highway near the San Francisco county line.

The accident involved cars driven by Russel Hocking, 3805 Twenty-sixth street, San Francisco, and Joseph Fountain, 3464 Mission street, San Francisco. It was investigated by Traffic Officer James Wallace.

Mrs. Hocking and Evelyn Fountain, 8, daughter of the driver, were those slightly hurt.

DELAY ON P. O. BRINGS INQUIRY BY CITIZEN BODY

What has happened to Redwood City's postoffice project? That query was raised last night by the Citizens' Advisory Board at a meeting in the firehouse auditorium.

The mystery of the delay back of the project begun two years ago was referred to Clifton Woodhams for an answer.

Water Surplus Held Too High

Advisory Body Favors Change in City's Charter

Suggestion that the city charter be amended so that $50,000 instead of $90,000 be held sufficient reserve for emergencies in the publicly-owned water department was made last night by a sub-committee of the Citizens' Advisory Board. The committee was headed by Clifton Woodhams.

Woodhams' committee also recommended against any consolidation of the offices of city manager and city engineer, holding the latter had ample duties taking care of the water department.

It was suggested by the committee that all bonds in the water department be retired from the earnings of the utility as quickly as possible and that no diversion to general tax funds be made until this utility is debt free.

Thereafter, the committee would urge that surplus earnings above the $50,000 reserve be turned into the general fund for the benefit of the taxpayers as against the ratepayers.

Woodhams' committee found the water department was not overstaffed and was "efficiently operated."

Earnings had paid for the system, the committee said, and in this way no direct taxes have been necessary. The committee included George Merrill, Z. T. Thorning, August Lueger and Mrs. Bessie Mansfield.

Socialite Escapes Injury in Accident

SAN MATEO, Aug. 13.—Edith Ransohoff, 645 West Santa Inez, Hillsborough, prominent in social circles here, escaped injury when her car collided last night with a truck driven by Vic Torres, 625 Walnut street, Redwood City.

Torres was allegedly backing his truck from a curb on B street, San Mateo, when the accident happened. No injuries were reported, but both vehicles were slightly damaged.

One of the worst and wickedest cities in the world is Irkutsk, Siberia, where as many as 500 murders are committed annually, though its population does not exceed 120,000. Arrests average one in every 50 murders and only half the arrests are followed by convictions.

If you are unable to discover which door on your car is rattling, drive with each one alternately open. When the noise stops, the door that is open at the time is the offender.
